To give system builders all they need create an immersive home theatre setup, SVS's Ultra Evolution range includes three floorstanding speakers, two bookshelf/standmount options, and centre channel and Elevation height models. In addition to angled cabinets for time alignment, a feature of each is the company's new diamond-vapour coated tweeter, which adds crisp detail to these speakers' fine midrange and potent bass – particularly the quad-woofer arrangement of the flagship Pinnacle tower. Buyers can expect a multichannel performance with excellent resolution, midrange musicality and show-stopping low-end impact. If this series showcases SVS's evolution, we can't wait to see where it goes next...
